

OBITUARY

Dr. Lutfun Nahar
(1936-2022)

Dr Lutfun Nahar who hailed from Cumilla was born in Kolkata in 1936. She completed her matriculation examination from Barisal Sadar Girl's School and Intermediate examination from Eden, Girl's College. She completed her MBBS from Dhaka Medical College (K13).

She worked as Resident Surgeon Gynae department DMCH. After that she went to London on Commonwealth Scholarship. She did her DRCOG in 1969 and MRCOG in 1970 from the Royal College of Obstetricians and Gynaecologists in London. After her return she joined the Government Service and was posted as Consultant, Cumilla Sadar Hospital. After the Liberation War she was transferred as Assistant Professor to IPGMR (now BSMMU). She took voluntary resignation in 1972 on personal grounds. She was married to Dr AKM Jamiul Alam, Chief Physician of erstwhile Cholera Research Laboratory.

She continued as a private practitioner till 2014. She received her FRCOG in 1998. She departed this mortal world on Friday, the 14th of January 2022 at her residence leaving behind her three sons, 1 brother, grandchildren and host of relatives and well-wishers.

OBITUARY

Dr. Khoorsheed Jahan Maula
(1951-2022)

Dr. Khoorsheed Jahan Maula was born on 3rd March in 1951 in a reputed muslim family and died on 15 May 2022. She was the wife of renown Uro - Oncologist Prof. Dr. Md. Abdus Salam

She completed her MBBS in 1974 from Rajshahi Medical College. She did her post-graduation in Obstetrics and Gynecology in the year of 1983. Her professional excellence knows no bound. She was the founder organizer and former head of the department of Gynaecological Oncology at NICRH, Dhaka. She worked in NICRH for 15 years in the field of Gynecological Oncology since 1993 to 2008. She has comprehensive special Training on Gynae – Oncology, at Royal London Hospital, UK in 1992, Sloan Kettering Memorial Cancer Center, USA in 2000, Tata Memorial Hospital, Mumbai, India in 2005, Laparoscopic training on Gynecological cancer from Sir Gangaram Hospital and AIIMS, New Delhi, India in 2007.

In her glorious professional carrier, she established affiliation to the professional bodies and Philanthropic Organization in home and abroad. She was the President of BDSCCP (Bangladesh society of Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology), President Elect of GOSB (Gynae Oncology Society of Bangladesh), Vice president of Urology and Transplantation Foundation of Bangladesh., Scientific Secretary of Bangladesh Cancer Society. She was the Life member of GOGSB and OGSB. She always actively participated in all the social activities. Besides she was always there for helping all her students.

If all the gynaecologists of our country put a little effort to improve the situation and treatment of female cancer patients, she will be looking at us from heaven with her effervescent smile. May Allah rest her soul in peace and may our gynaecologists be inspired by the life of Dr. Khoorsheed Jahan Maula.