

Dhaka University Law Journal

---

Volume: 32 Issue: 01 Centennial Special Issue 2021

---

Contents

Note from the Editor	I
The Contributors	IX
The Editor	XV
The Banglar Ghuri as a Metaphor for Inclusive Sustainable Development Werner Menski	1
The Neglected Cornerstone of Sustainable Development: Differential Treatment and Equity in The Climate Change Regime Shawkat Alam	17
Justiciability of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights under International Human Rights Law Muhammad Ekramul Haque	39
Horizontality of Fundamental Rights in Bangladesh Ridwanul Hoque	55
Command Theory of Law and Perils of Citizens Shahdeen Malik	73
Minimising Corruption in Bangladesh: Is this an Impossible Dream? Jon S.T. Quah	95
Trapped in a Cul-de-sac? The Orbit of Governance Reform in Bangladesh Habib Zafarullah	113
Environmental Obligations in International Watercourse Law and South Asian Practice Md. Nazrul Islam	133

Pandemic and the Emerging Threshold of Disaster Law in South Asia Amita Singh	153
Legal Liability of 'Free-Riders' during the COVID-19 Pandemic: A Mere Negligent Public Nuisance or Reckless Public Health Offence? Jamila A. Chowdhury	175
Development of the Laws of Tortious Liability in Bangladesh Naima Haider	197
The Role of Foreign Direct Investment Towards the Goal of Sustainable Development: Underscoring the Need for A Regulatory Policy Approach in Developing Countries M. Rafiqul Islam	209
The Bangladesh Competition Law – Improving the Efficiency of the Market A.K. Enamul Haque	233
Cybersecurity and Cyber Diplomacy at the Crossroad: An Appraisal of Evolving International Legal Developments in Bangladesh Context Md. Ershadul Karim	245
The Ideology of the Postcolonial State in Indian Constituent Assembly Debates (1946-50) Mohammad Shahabuddin	269